如果是机考，所有标点后面请马上跟一个空格，空格问题较多。

In modern era, the issue of college education has always been a matter (拼错) of public interest.✓ Some individuals champion the notion that the exclusive function of a university is ~~providing~~to provide (来自官方注释：the phrase "function of a university is providing" is not grammatically correct. It should be "the function of a university is to provide" or "a university's function is to provide." The infinitive form of the verb "to provide" is needed after "is" to complete the sentence structure) academic study, while a significant number of people argue that the purpose of colleges (单数可数名词要么加 s，要么前面加 the 表特指，或 a 表泛指) should be vocation-oriented. Based on my observation (来自官方注释："base on my observation" is not grammatically correct. The correct phrase is "Based on my observation." The word "base" is a verb, and the phrase needs the past participle "based" to act as an adjective describing the following phrase.), targeting employment should be attached (被动语态，BE + 过去分词 done) more importance to.

Firstly, it is obvious that most students receive university education just for getting professional skills and practical knowledge which allow them easily to get access to a decent career.✓ This is because ~~nowadays~~(来自官方注释："Nowadays": Needs a comma after it as it's an introductory adverbial phrase) society competition is becominge (nowadays 搭配的时态几乎总是现在进行时) more and more ~~firece~~fierce (拼错) nowadays (根据文法，放在最后). According to the 2021 annual report from the Ministry of Education of China, approximately 30% of ~~undergraducates~~undergraduates can not find ~~an~~ ideal jobs (最好强调不止一个工作) due to a lack of sufficient practices related to work skills.✓

Secondly, it is also significant for ~~university~~universities (单数可数名词要么加 s，要么前面加 the 表特指，或 a 表泛指) to concentrate on job-related curriculums– (如果机考的话，小心空格位置).✓

There is a common ~~believe~~belief (believe 为动词，名词形式为 belief) that providing more vocation-oriented training to students can hugely rise the percentage of employment~~-~~(再次小心空格问题). Moreover, this fact can, in turn~~-~~, make college more prestigious~~presitigious~~ (拼错) and attract more students in the future, which is truly ~~benefical~~beneficial (拼错) to educational institutions~~-~~.

Instead, this is not to say that ~~university~~universities (同上) should not pay attention to ~~the~~ (此处并未特指哪些学术研究，不必加定冠词 the) academic study. Obviously, ~~there are serval merits that some individuals who support another opinion based on that~~ ("there are merits that some individuals who support another opinion based on that"会被考官判定不必要冗长表达) some individuals support the opinion that academic study ~~cultivate~~fosters (来自官方注释：The verb "cultivate" is typically used with objects that can be grown or developed, like plants or relationships. While "academic study" can be developed or pursued, it doesn't fit the literal meaning of "cultivate". A more grammatically sound phrasing would be "academic study fosters" or "academic study promotes.") adolescents' capability of critical thinking and solving problems (同上). However~~-~~, these abilities can also be nurtured in workplaces and some specific skills can only be learned though work experience.✓

In conclusion, the major function of universities should be to develop vocation-oriented skills~~.ensuring~~ and ensure (使用句型依据：the function of STH BE/should BE to DO STH) high proportion of employment.✓ Meanwhile, we should not ignore the importance of academic study.
